Pricing FAQs

Straight answers on commission, billing and payment

Does OnlyChatAI sell paid media natively with Telegram Stars?

Yes, in the chat, from the creator's own account. The AI sends locked photos and videos priced in Telegram Stars and fans unlock them instantly without leaving the conversation. Teasers, priced PPV steps, discounts and follow-ups all run through Stars, with the same scripts as your OnlyFans setup. Droppfans payment links are supported alongside Stars.

What is the commission structure?

A flat monthly price per creator, plus a commission only when the AI sells. OnlyFans plans (Pro and Premium) take 10% of AI-generated net revenue. The Telegram plan takes 15% of AI-generated net revenue on Telegram. No sale, no commission.

How is "AI-generated net revenue" calculated?

Only what the AI sells, net of platform fees. The commission applies to revenue generated in conversations handled by the AI. Revenue you make outside AI conversations is not counted.

How does billing work?

Prepaid, transparent, no contract. Your subscription and commissions are deducted from an OnlyChat balance you top up in advance. If the balance reaches zero, the AI pauses until you recharge: no surprise debits and no lock-in.

How can I pay?

By card, bank transfer or cryptocurrency. You top up our OnlyChat balance and everything is deducted from it: subscription and commissions, nothing else.

Is MYM supported?

Coming soon. MYM is being added through an official integration under a public API agreement. OnlyFans and Telegram are live today, with the same AI and scripts on both.

Can I switch between plans?

Yes, at any time. Upgrading to Premium takes effect immediately: you pay the price difference pro rata for the rest of the current month, deducted from your balance. Moving back to Pro applies from your next billing cycle.

Ready to Put the AI on Your Inbox?

Start on Pro or Telegram at $20 per creator, upgrade whenever you want. Questions about which plan fits? The team answers on Telegram and by email.
